Mayor Yvonne M. Spicer will Join Treasurer Deborah B. Goldberg for Women's Economic Empowerment Series on March 3, 2018

Framingham, MA – Mayor Yvonne M. Spicer will join Treasurer Deborah B. Goldberg on Saturday, March 3, 2018 at 11:30 a.m. in Alumni Hall at Framingham State University for the Women's Economic Empowerment Series. This FREE one day program will focus on financial empowerment to assist women gain the tools for a financially secure future.

This program is for women of all ages, ethnicities, economic backgrounds, and levels of fiscal knowledge; and will cover a variety of financial topics including:

- Planning for Retirement
- Understanding How to Manage your Debt
- Budgeting Basics
- Salary Negotiations

"I am very excited that the Treasurer's Office has asked to collaborate with Framingham by bringing the "Women in Economic Empowerment Series" to Framingham State University. This is a very important time as we talk about economic empowerment and financial literacy; really honing in on Women's economic equality. Wage equality is foremost on the minds of many women here in the commonwealth and across the country. This program is just the resources that our community needs and I'm happy to continue to collaborate with Treasurer Goldberg," said Mayor Yvonne M. Spicer.
