

Framingham Cultural Council 2018 Art Competition

To celebrate the creativity of the young people in Framingham, the Commonwealth's newest city, the Framingham Cultural Council organized and sponsored an art contest open to students in Framingham schools, ages 11-18. The artwork was judged by three judges, each with a prominent position in the art community: Ilona Anderson, Suffolk University Associate Professor of Fine Arts & Foundation Studies; Brian Bishop, Framingham State University Art Department Chair and Professor; and Noelle Fournier, director of the Art School, Danforth Art Center at Framingham State University.

The winners in the High School Category were: First Place, Lily Macklin, Framingham High School, "Uncanny Valley 6"; Second Place, Molly Bogner, Framingham High School; Third Place, Jose Garcia, Reed Academy; and 2 Honorable Mention awards. The winners in the Middle School Category were: First Place, Marlena Slade, Christa McAuliffe Charter School, "Alive"; Second Place, Abby Rish, Christa McAuliffe Charter School, "Window to the City"; Third Place, Olivia Barbosa, Christa McAuliffe Charter School, "Colorful City"; and 10 Honorable Mention awards.
